These are just logs that were beginning a journey that ended at a sawmill at Hegewich, near South Chicago, where they were formed into timbers and lumber used in shipping machinery. This logging operation is being carried on in the timber north of Francis road about two miles west of Mokena by Robert Millsap, and Robert Love of Harvey. That's Millsap bringing a couple of logs up to the road for loading into a truck. Cutting up a tree into logs is Love. At his right is one of the helpers, Willie Curry. (Graphic Newspapers photo)

L-W Board Urges State To Improve U.S. Route 30

A letter to the district state highway engineer's office at Elgin, deploring the maintenance service on U. S. 30 has been written by Supt. A. Hunter Chapman, of Lincoln-Way high school at the direction of the institution's board of education. He also declares the road is extremely dangerous and has taken number of lives.

Supt. Chapman pointed out that for some unknown reason no snow fence was erected on school property this year and Route 30 was drifted shut in front of the school on Dec. 4--several times.

"My board . . . requested I contact your office to request much better maintenance service on U.S. 30 between the city of Joliet and the Will-Cook county line. . .," the letter reads.

"Even tho we realize the severe snowstorm of last week (Dec. 3-4) closed many of the main highways, we feel that the service at other times and maintenance has been rather careless and negligent.

"The previous week this highway was extremely slick, yet received no salt or cinders for over 12 hours. In the past the state maintenance staff has erected a snow fence along the north side of Route 30, parallel to our property line.

"We operate 14 school buses transporting 1,100 students, as well as having 100 employees and it is our responsibility to provide for their safety.

"I might add that 10 years ago the state purchased an additional 90 feet of land from the school district with the expectation of putting a 4-lane road thru. The school district has been left with the responsibility of maintaining this 90 feet ever since, which we have done willingly, but at the same time feel that we are entitled to a little better service than we have been receiving.

"Last year one of our loaded buses was hit by a truck just west of the junction of Routes 45 and 30, entirely because this hill had not been taken care of at any one time during the previous 12-hour period.

"I am not aware as to what the problem is, whether it is lack of equipment, materials or personnel, but I do think that whoever is responsible should assume this responsibility.

"Route 30 has been one of the most hazardous and dangerous highways in the state, with an exceptionally heavy traffic count. Many deaths have resulted because of the lack of interest on the part of those responsible for making it a safe highway. We are wondering how many more people will have to be killed before something is done."

Supt. Chapman was one of several persons from the area to attend the highway hearing yesterday morning in the Exhibition hall on the Fred Francis 4-H grounds in New Lenox township.

The state highway engineers have been conducting public hearings on the proposed routing of FAI-61, a north-south highway to supplant Illinois 53. The new highway is slated to join FAI-80--also still to be built--in the vicinity of Slevert and Francis roads.

From the map one gets the impression that the two highways would intersect so that traffic could get on or off from other roads, Chapman says that engineers have told him that the intersection would serve only traffic on the two highways, that anyone who wanted to get on FAI-80 or FAI-61 at point from New Lenox or any other place would find himself blocked. To get on FAI-61, it was said, a person would have to travel west on U.S. 6.

New Lenox wants an intersection with FAI-80 on North Cedar road. It was said this week that perhaps a compromise could be reached but making the junction of FAI-61 and 80, a full intersection, where motorists could get on or get off.

le she was popping corn in the kitchen at her home.

The pan, in which she had hot grease, overturned, it was reported, and the contents splashed on her clothing and became ignited. Her husband, Donald, seized a blanket and quickly wrapped her in its folds, extinguishing the flame.

A small fire also started up in the kitchen but Mr. Horneij extinguished it. Frankfort Police Chief Francis Simon escorted the couple to the hospital. The husband was treated for second degree burns on the forearms and released.

Mrs. Horneij, however, was hospitalized. She suffered third degree burns on the face, neck and arms.

The incident took place about 11:30 last Saturday night, Dec. 12.

BOY SCOUTS at Mokena recently held their annual family night dinner at which they received awards and badges. The affair was held in the Carpenter Street school. The thing that made this occasion different from any of its predecessors was the fact that four boys -- three of them brothers -- attained the rank of Eagle Scout, which is as far as one can go. Four Eagle Scouts from a community no larger than Mokena is believed to have established some sort of a record. The boys in the picture (l to r) are: Robert Bills, 14, Charles Bills, 12, David Bills, 12, all pupils in the Mokena public school, and George Gorman, 16, a student at Lincoln-Way. The adults, beginning at the left, are: Mrs. George H. Bills, Mr. Bills, Paul (Skip) Smith, scoutmaster, and Mr. and Mrs. George Gorman. (Graphic Newspapers photo)

Announces Farm Conservation Program For The Coming Year

The agricultural conservation program for 1965 will again encourage farmers to shift from production of surplus crops to conserving land uses and to establish practices for conservation of soil, water, woodland, and wildlife, where needed, according to Roy M. Smith, chairman, Will County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee.

The chairman explained that the local cost-sharing program has been formulated within the national program authority, to include practices which will best meet the conservation problems of the particular area. This is done annually by an ACP development group, composed of the ASC committee, soil conservation service technicians, and federal forest service foresters advised by others with conservation interests.

As in previous years the county ASC committee will administer the program and will relate it to work plans of the local soil and water conservation district. The soil conservation service and forestry agencies are responsible for technical phases of certain practices. A list of approved ACP practices--for which the program will again cover approximately half the cost--is available at the ASCS county office.

In announcing the national ACP for 1965--the 30th program year--Secretary of Agriculture Freeman said: "This program, which reaches into every state and agricultural county, is playing an increasingly important role in our efforts to improve rural areas--not only in their physical environment but also in their economic outlook. It is an important part of the on-going war against poverty.

"Rural lands are the source of nearly all the Nation's food and fiber, but if neglected these lands are also the source of soil erosion and silted streams. The farm fields where ACP is helping to promote conservation measures contribute vitally to clean usable water for the day-to-day living of our towns and cities as well as for the industry which provides employment for their people. At the same time that the program's conservation projects conserve agricultural resources, they bring other secondary benefits through creating more wildlife habitat and recreation opportunities. . .

"I am particularly gratified by ACP's progress in helping low-income farmers, including many who have been doing little or no conservation work, to make better use of their limited physical resources. I hope that more and more farmers will use the program to bring about needed land-use adjustments such as shifting land out of row crops and

Wins National Honor For Work In English

Catharine Marie Miesse, a senior at Carl Sandburg, has been named as one of "the best English students in the nation" and received an Achievement Award citation from the National Council of Teachers of English (NCTE). The award was announced by Evan H. Kelley, assistant to the superintendent in charge of Carl Sandburg high school.

Miss Miesse was named runner-up in the 1964 judging and will receive a certificate of recognition, as will the Sandburg English department.

James R. Squire, executive secretary of the NCTE, said that "We feel that recognition is also due to those administrators and teachers who are responsible for making such an achievement possible. Your English department in particular should be proud that one of its students has been honored."

Miss Miesse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winston C. Miesse of 12201 S. 74th Avenue in Palos Heights, is a member of the National Honor Society and orchestra this year and has served as a lab assistant for the past three years. She has twice entered projects in the Science Fair and was a member of Alchemists Anonymous for three years.

She is currently enrolled in Honors English IV under Miss Ruth Bardwick, head of the department.

Donald Steinhardt, who taught Miss Miesse last year, said, "Her outstanding trait is that she is extremely imaginative. Cathy seemed always sensitive to people and things around her; this was reflected in her work."

Take Part In Yule Programs At Colleges

Christmas music at Northern Illinois university and Illinois State university at Normal this year finds several area students taking part.

Julie Turner, 17807 Oak Park ave., Tinley Park, a soprano, is to be one of the soloists in the program at Northern Illinois where she is a sophomore.

Mrs. Sharon Bohart, the former Sharon Jorum, of 6902 W. 173rd Place, Tinley, is one of the two accompanists.

In the choir are Elaine Fetwell, 6661 Ravinia, Tinley Park, and Lurene Brown, 11133 Revere rd., Mokena.

At Normal, where Handel's "Messiah," was given last week-end those participating from the area were:

Jan Custer, Rt. 1, Orland Park, a senior, who has an alto voice, and Susan Webb, 109 Haven ave., New Lenox, who also is an alto. Miss Webb is a freshman.

ANTON B. MUTZ, Joliet lawyer and president of the Will County Bar Association, has been named by State's Attorney George E. Sangmeister as one of his staff of assistants, the other members of which are Daniel Kennedy, Norman Codo, Martin Rudman and Joseph Fitzgerald. Bert Engelman, who was an assistant under State's Attorney Frank H. Masters, will be retained on the staff until the first of the year.

Mutz is a graduate of DePaul university college of law and has been practicing since 1936. He is also a member of the Federal Bar Association and is associated with Gordon W. Bedford in the practice of law, with offices in the Charlistrom building, in Joliet. He is a veteran of World War II and a charter member of American Legion post, No. 1080. Mutz is a past president of the Joliet Exchange club of the Holy Name Society of St. Joseph church, Joliet. In 1956 he was a candidate for the Democratic nomination for state's attorney.

Howlett Speaks At Demo Victory Feast In Joliet

Democrats newly elected to public office in the Nov. 3 election sweep will be responsible for progress of their party in Will county for years to come, Michael J. Howlett, state auditor of public accounts, predicted last Thursday night at a victory dinner of the Will County Democratic Organization in the Chantilly room of D'Amico's restaurant, Joliet.

"Our new office holders, especially in the administrative county offices, have an opportunity to prove that the Democratic party stands for sound, careful, practical government," said Howlett.

"Victory is sweet to the taste, but with victory comes responsibility. It is a thrill to take charge of an office which has been administered by the opposite party for 28 years, but four years of conscientious, thankful, often tedious, work will be required to keep it."

The Democrats polled almost 4,000 more straight votes in Will county which has been regarded as a Republican stronghold.

The Spirit Of Christmas--

(Editor's Note: In this mad, hectic world of missiles, machines, rush, and race for power the lines below, penned by some anonymous writer for the Industrial Review, are offered here in the hope they may restore some sense of tranquility and balance for the reader.)

The old-time Christmas, with its simple virtues and traditions, has largely become a part of history. This was the Christmas of homemade toys and gifts, of candlelight trees gay with strings of popcorn and paper ornaments. And something has been lost because of the inevitable changes in the Christmas celebration that the swiftly-passing years have brought. We live in an era of vast material abundance. But the very weight of this lavish materialism can undermine that spiritual abundance which is of infinitely greater importance.

What must never be allowed to change is the Christmas spirit and the Christmas story of the Christ Child. Charity, faith, kindness, courage, strength in the face of adversity--these are among the qualities which Christmas, in its magnificent symbolism, stands for. These, too, are qualities which are far too rare in a world torn with jealousies and troubles and marred with cynicism and selfishness.

At any rate, Christmas is almost here again. Let it be a time when children are made happy--for Christmas, the heart of Christmas, is theirs most of all. And let it be a time when we who are older recall what the true meaning of Christmas is.

"Peace on earth, good will toward men." These magnificent old words will be spoken once more, and the great old music will sound. We have not realized that hope. But each of us, at Christmas, should resolve to do whatever he can to make it come true.

IT HAS BEEN a long time between English drivers for your correspondent and except for the fact that the blighters drive on the wrong side of the road, I don't remember very much about them.

I have a very clear recollection of an Englishman's sense of property rights, having once inadvertently trespassed in seeking a shortcut, and if you repeat that old bit about an Englishman's home being his castle you will not just be whistling Dixie. I also remember, as if it were yesterday, so shocked I was by the experience, of being told by two different pub keepers that treating other patrons was not allowed.

But I am unable to contribute any direct testimony relative to the conduct of British automobile drivers.

The Safe Winter Driving League has high praise for English drivers. If more Americans drove with the courtesy displayed by English drivers, the League says in a recent publicity release, our police would issue far fewer tickets for winter driving traffic violations.

THE SOURCE of this statement is listed as Quinn Tamm, executive director of the International Association of Chiefs of Police. In England, he says, drivers are considerate of the rights of others. They don't jump the light, or try to push the gas pedal thru the floor or try to stop on a dime, leaving several cents in change, he adds.

Mr. Tamm doesn't say this, of course, but let's suppose an English driver fails to stop in time and the front end of his car bashes into the rear end of a car halted ahead of him, also piloted by an Englishman. Maybe the pavement was slick, maybe there was a fog, as is not unusual in what was once upon a time called "Merrile England."

From the build up given by Mr. Tamm the scene could have developed in this fashion:

DRIVER OF FIRST CAR sits still for several seconds and then cautiously lifts his hands to where his head was supposed to be. He is relieved no end to discover that it is still in place because for a moment he thought that it had snapped off and sailed thru the windshield.

"My word," he said, succeeding in twisting his neck sufficiently to look to the rear. Taking in the situation he got out of the car and strolled back to the other vehicle where that driver was feeling gingerly of his chest and chin.

"Nasty night, what," volunteered the first driver. "Ghastly," agreed the second.

"I say," the first went on, "that was quite a bump."

"Quite," "I don't know if you know, old chap," the first driver remarked in an apologetic tone, "but your bonnet is a bit staved in and there is rather a goodish dent in my boot."

"Oh, I say, I hope it's nothing serious. By the way, I hope you are not injured."

"I DON'T believe so. My neck felt as if it were broken but I can turn my head. Are you injured?"

"I don't think so. Perhaps a rib or two may be cracked but my pen wasn't broken. Nasty mess if a pen breaks. The ink, you know."

"Quite. I say, I believe there is a pub nearby. Lets adjourn and have a spot of tea or something, while the garage people can see about these. We can leave the lamps on so if anyone else comes along they will have a warning."

"Righto."

And the pair toddles off, discussing the next football match.

The English, says Mr. Tamm, bring common sense to their traffic problems. He admits, however, that they do not have as much

Considering the poinsettia's popularity, it's doubtful that Joel Poinsett ever realized what a big thing he started.

Born to a wealthy Huguenot family in Charleston, South Carolina, in 1779, Joel Poinsett had every privilege that family and money could provide. As was fashionable at that time, he vigorously indulged in the hobby of gardening. In fact, he was skilled to the extent that his garden was famous throughout our then new nation.

Perhaps it was his interest in gardening and the opportunity to collect new plants from the world that whetted his interest in diplomacy. He was first appointed as special representative to South America by James Madison. It is recorded that at this time he sent back numerous seeds, tubers, and cuttings for his garden and the gardens of friends.

His service to Madison in South America was apparently competent because later under President Jackson he was appointed the first American minister to Mexico. It was in Mexico that Poinsett found his claim to fame. Noting the wild poinsettia that is native only to Central America, he sent several specimens home to Charleston. He also sent several specimens to Robert Buist, a florist in Philadelphia. As far as we know, it is from the specimens that were sent in 1833 to Buist that all our present day poinsettias are derived. It was also Buist that named the plant Poinsettia pulcherrima. The scientific name has since been changed to Euphorbia pulcherrima. However, the poinsettia still retains as its common name that of a Southern gentleman who was our first minister to Mexico.

It may be said that the poinsettia has come a long way since its introduction 131 years ago. This Christmas people will be buying scarlet, pink, and cream colored plants. Some florists are even making up combination pots that include two colors. Although not quite as Christmas-like, the white poinsettia lasts even longer in the house than the reds or pinks. We've heard of people enjoying white poinsettias until March.

New developments in the red poinsettias are likely to surpass even those records. This year a new very durable red variety is available called "Paul Mickelson." Last year many of these new reds stayed in bloom as long as the whites. You can recognize the red "Paul Mickelson" by its stout, thick, stems and slightly darker smaller flowers.

The 1965 University of Illinois Winter Short Course in Agriculture is set for Feb. 1 to March 12 on the U of I campus in Urbana.

The annual six-week course is designed to give young farmers who cannot regularly attend college a chance to learn the latest in farming ideas and methods.

Short course supervisor Warren Wessels says young farmers who attend the short course can choose from 24 courses in the areas of agricultural economics, agricultural engineering, agronomy, animal science, dairy science, horticulture, turf and park management, and veterinary medicine.

All short course instructors are college professors who are prominent in their fields and up to date on the latest research findings. The record-breaking short course enrollment each year for the past five years has provided an annual gauge of the increasing importance young Illinois farmers are placing on the need for developing technical and management skills to compete in today's modern agriculture. Cost of the short course will range from $225 to $290, depending on the courses and housing accommodations the individual student chooses. Prospective students should check with their local bankers about possible $100 scholarships. The Illinois Bankers Association has encouraged its member banks to award scholarships to selected students living in their trade areas. The Illinois FFA Foundation also is offering twenty $50 scholarships.

For further short course information, write to Warren Wessels, Short Course Supervisor, 104 Mumford Hall, College of Agriculture, Urbana.

Now is the time to go over some points to keep in mind when shopping for that "Right" Christmas tree. (1) Freshness, form and shape, density, color and size are worth considering (2) A freshly cut tree is easy to keep fresh and is less likely to catch fire than an early-cut tree. A fresh tree will also probably have an agreeable fragrance (3) You won't have to sweep up so many falling needles from a fresh tree. Pines generally hold their needles well. Douglas Fir and balsam also are good needle holders if not cut too early. But Norway spruce does a poor job of holding its needles (4) Your tree doesn't have to be perfect in form and shape. You can hide bad "faces" by putting the bad side to a wall or placing the tree in a corner. But a tree needs at least one good face.

Rock Is. Will Lower Fares To Spur Travel

Passenger fares on the Rock Island Lines will be reduced 25%, effective Jan. 11, Henry J. Koukal, passenger traffic manager, Chicago, announced today.

The reduced fares will be effective Monday through Thursday and will be known as MTT fares to denote the days they are effective. Formal application covering this new arrangement was filed today with the Interstate Commerce Commission and state regulatory bodies. (They do not apply to local service - such as between commuter points).

This action was taken in a move to attract more patronage in both coach, parlor car and sleeping car accommodations and to reacquaint the public with the pleasure, convenience and dependability of railroad travel, Koukal said.

"Passenger service on the Rock Island has been under intensive study and re-evaluation and our reason for lowering fares by 25% is an effort to increase patronage on our trains during the week," Koukal explained.

"Our trains are well-patronized on Friday through Sunday and we are hopeful that our MTT fares will induce the traveling public to use our service on the other days of the week too," he said.

Koukal referred to comments made last week by Luther H. Hodges, secretary of commerce, regarding railroad passenger service. Mr. Hodges said a program aimed at reviving passenger service should be undertaken at once.

"Secretary Hodges indicated that only half as many persons ride trains now as 15 years ago, despite enormous increases in population and travel generally," Koukal said. "So it will be interesting to see the results of our move."

"Numerous surveys indicate that 90% of intercity travel is done by the private automobile. Railroads, airlines and busses compete for only 10% of the travel market. In this case, the Rock Island is making train travel attractive by appealing directly to the public's pocketbook, and seeks to increase its share of the transportation dollar," Mr. Koukal pointed out.

"In the past we have emphasized the family fare plan which also is in effect on Monday through Thursday. The 25% reduction is aimed at the individual traveler. In effect, he will receive the same savings as a family unit does now. Under the family fare plan a husband and wife pay one full-fare and a half fare with other reductions for children," he said.

Rockets of the Rock Island Lines provide passenger service on the Rocky Mountain Route between Chicago-Omaha and Denver-Colorado Springs; on the Mid-Continent Route between Minneapolis-St. Paul-

Kansas City and Fort Worth; and between Chicago and Peoria.

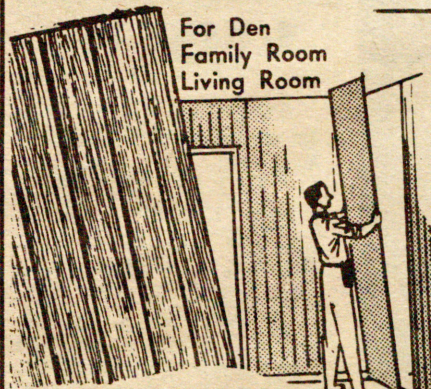

MTT fares will not apply on the Golden State, a jointly operated train of the Rock Island Lines and the Southern Pacific Railway between Chicago and Los Angeles. Round-trip fares on the Golden State to Arizona and California have already been reduced by approximately 20%, Koukal concluded.

Churches Prepare For Christmas Celebration

MRS. KATHARINE HEISNER
Telephone: 469-5187

The traditional Advent wreath again is seen at Good Shepherd Lutheran church and symbolizes the preparation season of the Christmas festival.

The wreath is composed of four violet candles and one white candle. One violet candle is lit each Sunday until Christmas Eve when the center white candle is also lit. All candles then change to white at Christmas Eve until Epiphany.

The four violet candles represent the 400 years God's chosen people waited for the Messiah; they also symbolize the four Sundays of the Advent season.

The Rev. Erwin Baumgartner also announces that the Sunday school is presenting the childrens program "Light a Candle for the Savior" on Christmas Eve at 7:30 p.m. The program is under the direction of the Sunday school superintendent, Fred Uthe. All departments of the Sunday school along with the choir are participating in this impressive candle - lighting program.

A song - service entitled "Christmas Thoughts in Song" will be held Christmas day at 9 a.m. All are cordially invited to attend festive services during the holidays at Good Shepherd.

The youth group will hold their annual Christmas party on Sunday, Dec. 20 at 7 p.m.

The Sunday school Christmas program of the Frankfort Methodist church will be held Sunday, Dec. 20 at 7:30 p.m. "The Holy Nativity" will be given by the Sunday school. A combination of a traditional Christmas program and a pageant with the youth choir participating will be presented.

Sunday, Dec. 20 at 2 p.m. there will be a Senior MYF rehearsal for the Christmas Eve service.

Wednesday, Dec. 23 at 6:30 p.m. the intermediate MYF will go caroling, followed by a party.

The Christmas Eve candlelight service will be held Thursday, Dec. 24 at 11 p.m. The youth fellowship will present their traditional candlelight service which will be a blend of tableau and narration to demonstrate Christmas without Christ and a worship experience to demonstrate the religious significance of Christmas Day. Six Speeders Pay Fines In Mokena Court Arrests and fines help in curbing traffic violations, statisticians say, but winter storms accomplish more, if the report from the Mokena branch of the circuit court for last week is any criterion.

There were but six cases to come before Magistrate Robert Burns last week-end and strangely enough all dealt with speeding. In each instance the defendant paid $5 costs but the fines varied.

CSHS Teacher Attends World Order Seminar

A Carl Sandburg social studies instructor was selected as one of the "outstanding Midwestern educators" to attend a residential seminar on teaching about law and world order. He is Howard C. Lundvall of 717 N. Craig Place in Lombard.

The seminar was held at Allerton house, the University of Illinois conference center, at Monticello on Dec. 13 - 15. The meeting was jointly sponsored by the Foreign Relations department of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools with the World Law Fund.

The program consisted of a series of lectures followed by small group discussions. Specialists on world law and international relations served as resource people.

Participation was limited to about 50 educators from the Midwest and the invitation to Lundvall said, "We feel that your contribution to the seminar will be most valuable."

Lundvall has taught World History I and II at Sandburg for the past three years. He came to Sandburg from Canton (Ill.) high school and junior college. This fall he attended a social studies seminar at DeKalb where the theme was "World Cultures."

NI-Gas Wins An Award For Safe Driving

Northern Illinois Gas Company and its employees have been honored by the National Safety Council for their safe driving record during a recent 12 - month period.

The company received one of the top awards in the council's 33rd National Fleet Safety Council.

According to Joseph G. Lambert, NI-Gas director of safety, the company's 2,377 drivers operated 1,731 NI-Gas vehicles for a total of 17,919,747 miles during the period, with less than eight accidents per million miles.

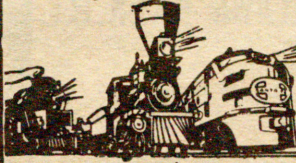

During the 12 months, NI-Gas drivers reduced their vehicle accident rate nearly 23 percent from the previous year.

Lambert says that the company's safety record is one of the best in the gas industry and among other company fleets in this area.

All accidents were counted in the contest except those occurring when a company vehicle was properly parked. Winners were determined after inspection of their records by an auditor appointed by the National Fleet Safety Contest Committee.

the Christmas gift a woman never forgets, a wonderful electric dishwasher

A wife likes pretty, personal gifts at Christmas. But she loves practical ones, too. And probably the most wanted practical gift of all is an electric dishwasher. Nothing else she can own saves her so many endless hours of drudgery. Come to think of it, how could a gift be more personal, or look prettier to her?

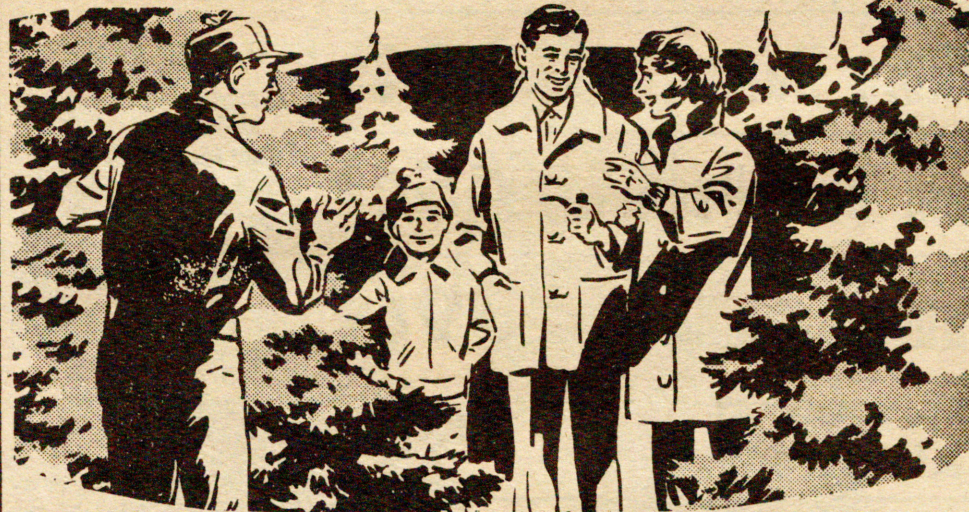

With just a flick of a switch a dishwasher washes, rinses, and dries... all automatically. Glasses, dishes, and flatware come out sparkling, without water spots or towel streaks. Everything is washed and rinsed in water hotter than hands... even gloved hands... can stand. Then it's dried in pure, clean, electrically heated air that's far more sanitary than any dish towel.

You can now get a portable dishwasher, if you like, that does every bit as good a job. Portables need no plumbing connections, and they can be permanently installed in a new kitchen later.

You'll be surprised how little it costs to give your wife the happiness that comes with a new electric dishwasher. See the built-in and portable models at your electric appliance dealer's now. And a Merry Christmas to you both.

The Carl Sandburg Eagles seem to have found themselves of late as they nailed down their third and fourth consecutive victories last week - end by beating Homewood-Flossmoor, 53-34, and Rich East, 71-55. Friday night the Eagles meet an improved Lincoln - Way team for their first away conference game.

Last Friday night, playing host in the new Stagg gym, the Eagles took an early lead against Homewood - Flossmoor last year's conference champions.

High scorer for Sandburg was center Bruce Hyink with 16 points, while junior guards, Doran Harding and Van Broman, tallied nine each. The game was won under the boards as Sandburg's Roland Roth, Drew Corley and Hyink completely dominated in the rebound department. Corley contributed eight points to the score and Roth Six.

The Vikings' high scorer was Greg Bernstein, 6'1/2" forward, with 11 points.

The defensive triumph for Sandburg was their second in conference play.

Saturday night's game against Rich followed the same pattern. The Eagles jumped off to an early lead and managed to hold it thru-out the game. Hyink tallied a record high of 26 points in the lopsided contest while playmaker Harding scored 14 and Corley 11.

Bob Bladek, Rich East's 6'3 1/2" center, managed to get 17 points in the 71-55 loss.

Score by quarters:
Sandburg 17 8 13 15 - 53
Homewood 7 13 10 4 - 34
Sandburg 19 18 19 15 - 71
Rich East 13 10 15 17 - 55

HOWIE GRIMES going up with a shot to add to Lincoln-Way's total in the game against Oak Lawn last Saturday night. The Knights beat their conference foe 56 to 49. Oak Lawn played a stalling game for the most part. That Oak Lawn player, No. 33, going up in a futile attempt to slap the ball out of line, is Sarpalius. L-W's No. 24 is Seitzinger. Lincoln-Way Keeps Its Conference Card Clear

BY NORM BEEBE

Lincoln - Way registered their fifth straight victory in a row by stopping the Spartans of Oak Lawn 56-49 played at Lincoln - Way last Saturday. Friday, Dec. 11 the Knights defeated the Evergreen Park Mustangs 88-58 for their fourth victory in a row. Tomorrow (Friday) the Knights will be host to Carl Sandburg, also unbeaten in conference play.

This was the third straight victory in conference play for the Knights and fifth in overall play.

Senior forward Rich Schroeder led in the scoring column for the Knights by making 17 points, following him were Bill Stanfill and Tom Hamilton, both making 12.

Jim Shaffer was high point man for the Spartans, contributing 22 points. The Spartans are now two for one in conference play.

The Knights started off to an early lead over the Spartans with a first period score of 20-17. In the second period the Knights found the going rough. Jim Shaffer, Spartan guard, led his team to a 29-27 lead over the Knights at the end of the first half.

Lincoln - Way started to take the lead late in the third quarter when a 15 footer by Howie Grimes broke the tie to put the Knights ahead. From this point on, the Knights steadily increased their lead. The third period ended with Lincoln-Way ahead of Oak Lawn 42-35.

In the fourth period the Knights held on to their lead and gradually increased it. The closest Oak Lawn came to the Knights in the fourth quarter was 7 points. Lincoln-Way and Oak Lawn hit 14 points apiece in the last period.

Lincoln - Way secured their fourth victory in a row by defeating the Evergreen Park Mustangs 88-58 in the Mustang gym Friday, Dec. 11.

The Knights took the lead in the opening seconds of the first period when Keith Schram scored a 2 pointed right after the tip off. Lincoln-Way retained a respectable 18-11 lead at the end of the first period.

Lincoln - Way started things off in the second period much the same as the first and broke loose to a 20-11 lead over the Mustangs with 7:50 left in the lead for the last time at 18-14.

But the harrasing Lyons defenders broke up several Trojan passes and the Lions started pulling away. At the half they led 31-24.

Two quick buckets by DG's Dick Lane at the start of the third period narrowed the margin to 31-28. But with Jim Vopat and Dennis DePaola sparking the attack Lyons upped its margin to 55-41 by the end of the period.

Dick Lane notched 21 points for the Trojans before fouling out. Bud Bocker added 14 more.

DePaola sparked the well-balanced Lyons offensive with 18 points while Jim Vopat chipped in with 16.

half. Evergreen started to pull ahead, but could not come any closer than 3 points to the Knights.

With 3:00 left in the half the Knights offense really broke loose. Tom Hamilton hit a 15 foot corner shot for the Knights, followed up by Schram and Schroeder to make the score 38-29. With 2 seconds left in the half, Bill Stanfill connected with a 20 footer to put Lincoln-Way on top at intermission, 42-31.

Mike Seitzinger, sophomore, center for the Knights opened the third period with a 10 footer and was awarded a free throw. Stanfill followed up Seitzinger with another 2 points for the Knights. After an exchange of baskets, the Knights regained possession of the ball with the score 47-32.

The Knights went on to another scoring spree in the final minutes of the third period and consequently owned a 63-44 lead going into the fourth and final eight minutes of the game.

Seitzinger and Stanfill each connected and put the Knights further in front of the Mustangs 70-46. From this point on Lincoln-Way pulled steadily ahead and mounted the score 85-58 at the final buzzer.

Sophomore Mike Seitzinger was high point man for the Knights with 21 points backed up by Rich Schroeder's 15 and Keith Schram and Bill Stanfill were credited with 14 points apiece.

Mustangs, Scooters In 6-6 Tie

A four-goal rally in the final period gave the La-Grange Scooters a 6-6 tie with the Downers Grove Mustangs in a hockey game Friday night at the Elmhurst YMCA.

Chris Holiday's three-goal hat trick paced the Mustang attack. Holiday's final score, at 12:05 of the third stanza, produced the deadlock.

Sandburg Matmen Tie With Mustangs

Eagle Swim Team Beats Proviso W.

BY PAUL MARTIN

The Carl Sandburg swimmers brought their winning streak to three by beating Proviso West 53-35, by taking eight of eleven events. Tonight and tomorrow the varsity hopes to continue its impressive record, going downstate over night to take on Peoria Richwoods and Peoria Central.

The sophomores lost the meet last weekend 56-49 in the final event. This is the second meet in a row that the sophomore squad has lost this way.

In last week's victory the varsity won all the events except the 200 yard medley relay, the 200 yard individual medley and the 100 yard butterfly.

The Sandburg divers, finishing first and second, were only separated by nine tenths of a point. Double winners were Bob Hutchinson and Jim Dallege.

21 - 21. The next day they defeated a weak Oswego squad 29 - 14.

The main weakness in the Sandburg team this year seems to be in their lower weight divisions. This was quite evident in the Evergreen meet as the Eagles were behind 11-0 before scoring their first points. Scott Spooner, wrestling at 95, was pinned and Larry Clark and Tom Haislet both lost.

However on the winning side for Sandburg were Tom Osting, Bob Hunnewell, Larry Cobden, Karl Panzak and Ed Apel, who was wrestling in his first meet this year. Bill Karolich and Harry Werner tied, making the final score 21-21 against Evergreen.

Things were on the brighter side the next day however as Sandburg defeated the Oswego squad 29-14. Eagle wins were posted by Scott Spooner, by forfeit, Tom Haislet, Tom Osting, Bob Hunnewell, Larry Cobden, by a pin, Karl Panazek and Ed Apel, by a pin.

Still undefeated this year are Larry Cobden, Tom Osting and Ed Apel. This weekend action enabled the Eagles to boast their season record to 2-2-1.

On the sophomore level Sandburg was defeated by Evergreen Park 24-19, but

Trojans Romp, Lose To Lyons

A fourth-quarter rally carried Downers Grove to a 56-45 victory over Maine East, the defending West Suburban champions, last Friday night.

Except for an offensive lapse in the second period, the Trojans controlled most of the game. DG got off to a 6-0 lead on baskets by Dick Lane, Al Monfils and Bud managed to down Oswego by a comfortable 39-8.

The freshmen Eagles, wrestling in only one meet last weekend, squeaked by Evergreen 23-22. Winners for Sandburg were Bill Palmer, Jim Smart, Bill Devine, Al Hailer and Mark Leatzow by a pin. The pin by Leatzow was his fourth straight pin in as many matches.

The Sandburg junior - varsity made it a three team sweep over Oswego by emerging victorious. The final score was 29 - 17.

The next match for the varsity grapplers will be Friday night against Rich East at 7:30 in the Sandburg gym. According to John Anderson, Sandburg coach, this meet should be one of the years toughest since Rich appears to be one of the main threats in the SWS conference this year.

Bocker and by the end of the period had a 20-10 bulge.

But a cold spell coupled with sharp defensive work held the Trojans to four points--three on free throws by Jon Davis--in the second period. By intermission Maine had closed its deficit to 24-23.

The third quarter was a nip-and-tuck affair and DG took a 36-33 edge into the final stanza.

The decision was in doubt until the final minutes and it took a pair of free throws by Bob Perkins to ice the game with 43 seconds to go. The charities made the score 54-45. Bocker's two-pointer put it away.

The Trojans dominated the backboards, grabbing 47 rebounds to 28 for the visitors. Bocker led the Trojan scorers with 16 points and Rich Howat added 14. Game honors went to Maine's Rich Lau with 21.

The powerful Lyons offense broke loose with less than two minutes to play in the first half Saturday night and the Lions coasted to a 78-56 victory over visiting Downers Grove.

Until that point it was a tight, see-saw battle. Three straight baskets by Al Monfils gave the Trojans the

U.S. Plans Canal Clean-Up

In a report released this week, residents of the Illinois River valley, including the Des Plaines, Sag-Calumet and Chicago River sections, were made aware of a Federal pollution cleanup project with far-reaching dimensions.

The report, issued by William Kehr, Director of the Great Lakes and Illinois River Basin Project, and Grover Cook, chief biologist, states that the water quality in the Illinois River, from Chicago to Dresden Locks, will be raised to support commercial fish, while the water quality from Dresden downstream will meet requirements for gamefish such as bass and walleyes.

The federal project aims at complete removal of all damaging industrial wastes and a treatment of domestic sewage to the point where it will have no harmful effect on the waterway.

An overall plan for collection and treatment of wastes in the river basin is being formed with the probability of eliminating many small municipal systems and piping the sewage to large, complete - treatment centers in central locations. The treated effluent from the plants would be distributed by pipe downstate and released in small amounts at various points to reduce the effects of large discharges.

A cleanup of the water, as pictured in the U.S. program, would make available millions of gallons of industrial water for commercial expansion on the upper river, through Lemont, Lockport and Joliet. It would also restore a valuable and much-needed recreation resource to the heavily-populated northern Illinois area.

Some work is already underway on the federal program and more is expected following Congressional action in the next session. Also, state funds will be sought to supplement the federal money to complete the project.

Area Volunteers Work To Aid Cancer Sufferers

Miss Betty Wilhelmi, R. N., a graduate of St. Charles hospital school of nursing at Aurora and supervisor of third floor intensive care at St. Joseph hospital, Joliet, has been named chairman of the service committee of the Will county unit of the American Cancer Society.

Announcement of the appointment was made by William H. Lipsey, head of the Will county unit. Serving with her on the committee are Mrs. Ernest Hedburg, Manhattan, and Mrs. Ralph German, Joliet.

Last year the service committee of the county unit distributed more than 54,000 cancer dressings to 100 patients in Will county and Lemont. These are used in the care of home-bound patients and those in nursing homes and hospitals where approval has been given. These dressings were made by volunteers in more than 50 sewing groups, which also provided bed pads and hospital gowns.

The Willing Workers circle of the Methodist church and the women of St. John's church make up the Mokena sewers. In Frankfort the women who sew the dressings are members of the WSCS of the Methodist church and the women of St. Peter's church; at New Lenox the Woman's Club is in charge of the program.

Among the patients served last year were three from New Lenox and one from Orland Park.

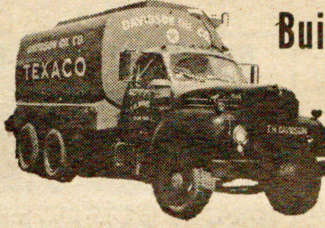

As chairman of the service committee Miss Wilhelmi urges anyone needing cancer dressings or other services to contact the unit office at 260 Western ave., Joliet.

Also available to patients without charge are hospital beds, walkers and wheelchairs. Partial payment for transportation of cancer patients to hospitals for treatment can be provided. Further information on cancer problems may be obtained by calling 815-727-4086.

Rep. H. R. Gross (R.—Iowa), has figured out that it will cost more to enroll a youth in the Job Corps than it would to send him to Harvard. He said that the annual cost of $4,700 per enrollee is about $500 more than it would cost to send a student to Harvard for the entire school year and pay him $50 a week during the summer vacation, to boot.

HOUSING COSTS —

The Department of Labor reports that the average building trades wage rose to $4.26 an hour on October 1. Plumbers led the list with $5.71 hourly wage in a major area of the country.

UNUSUAL—Federal agencies are not noted for living within their budgetary allotments. Thus the report by the General Accounting Office that the United States Study Commission, Southwest River Basins had completed its mission without asking for a single penny in extra funds should bring hearty congratulations from taxpayers.

Business & Finance

BY MAURICE P. ANGLAND

According to a number of the leading analysts, the stock market trends are being strongly influenced by labor difficulties in several areas, but steel is attracting special attention. Tax selling is having some influence, but there is considerable interest in the new labor contract in steel that is to come up early in the new year.

In addition to the normal problems of a new contract, there is a struggle for control of the steel worker's union. In vying for support of union members, the competing factions must convince the members that their programs will best serve the union members.

STEEL

The competitive situation among the steel makers in the large market known as the Calumet area, is very difficult.

A few days ago, Bethlehem Steel announced that its new facilities at Burns Ditch are in production. The firm is planning on large additions to this plant which will give it smelting capacity of the most modern type. At present hot billets are received from Pennsylvania mills in special New York Central cars and received at Burn's Ditch plant warm enough to be rolled. Development of these cars was a considerable advancement in railroad facilities and likely to be emulated at other points.

The shifting of industry to the middle west has been so great that all the leading steel makers must be competing in this market. Steel mills cannot be built quickly and they must anticipate business a number of years ahead. There is, therefore, likely to be excess capacity in the Calumet region and keen competition with the most efficient doing well.

New plants must have automation to a large degree to meet price and quality competition and meet labor demands and also show a profit which will encourage the investor to look with favor on investments in the steel industry. The inefficient units in this industry will have rough going.

INDUSTRY SHIFT

We who live in this area between the Calumet region and the Mississippi river will be part of a large industrial shift toward new distribution patterns for industry. Students of marketing and distribution point to the fact that there are presently three major distribution areas, (1) New York, (2) Chicago market area, and (3) Los Angeles market area. Chicago is generally rated as either first or nearly so and expected to be first.

Holiday Fruit Cake

One of the most popular and traditional holiday foods is the fruit cake. Northern Illinois Gas Company's Penny Flame gets so many requests for fruit cake recipes at this time of the year, she has developed and carefully tested her own recipe for a perfect white fruit cake.

INGREDIENTS

1/2 lb. candied citron, chopped
1/2 lb. whole candied cherries
3/4 lb. orange and lemon peel chopped
2 lbs. white raisins
3/4 lb. candied pineapple, chopped
1/4 cup fruit juice
1 lb. butter
2 cups sugar
10 eggs
4 cups sifted flour
1-1/2 lbs. whole pecans

DIRECTIONS

Prepare fruit and soak in fruit juice while preparing batter. Cream butter and add sugar gradually. Then add one egg at a time, beating well after each addition. Add four and mix well, then the nuts and fruit. Pour in three loaf pans which have been greased, lined with waxed paper and buttered over the waxed paper. Bake 2 hours in 250 Degrees F. oven. Remove from pan immediately. Cool on cake racks. Store in covered container.

'Cold Spells' Will Be Named For Men, So There!

When a violent hurricane is given a woman's name by the U.S. Weather Bureau, many women with the same name react with considerable dismay.

They now may be comforted to learn that Northern Illinois Gas Company is labelling severe cold spells in this area with male names.

In November, the company reports, "Cold Spell Albert" hit northern Illinois with unusually frigid temperatures for so early in the heating season.

The company's 644,859 heating customers used over a billion cubic feet of natural gas November 20 and 21, breaking all NI-Gas sendout records for the month. Temperatures averaging about 16 Degrees.

Cold Spell Bruce, the second major cold period of this heating season, blew in Sunday, November 30, and stayed around three days with an average daily temperature of 17 Degrees.

NI-Gas says a cold spell is usually more talked about than the weather bureau's official "cold wave," which is a drop of 20 Degrees in temperature within 24 hours to either 20 Degrees or 10 Degrees, depending on the time of year and specific location.

NI-Gas weather and gas sendout experts define a cold spell as any continuous period of 48 hours or more when the average daily temperature is 19 Degrees or less.

When this happens people try to stay indoors, and NI-Gas must call upon its many resources to keep homes, offices, schools and factories comfortably warm. This usually requires an average daily sendout of more than one billion cubic feet of natural gas for as long as the spell lasts.

Last year, the first cold spell of the winter didn't arrive until December 12. This heating season to date has been about 60 percent colder than last, according to the company.

Even before Cold Spell Bruce departed last week, NI-Gas began preparing for Charles. The company continually keeps aware of the predicted weather, the amounts of natural gas available from pipelines and the quantities of gas which can be pumped from underground storage to help meet all customers' needs, regardless of the cold.

Male names were chosen to label cold spells, the company explains, out of respect to all women named Agnes, Brenda, Cleo, Dora, Ethel and on through the alphabet, who loyally use natural gas every day to help with their homemaking chores -- from cooking to drying clothes.

3 Sandburg Seniors To See Themselves On TV

Three Sandburg seniors will be able to sit at home and watch themselves on television Saturday (Dec. 19) and again the following week. They are Roy Butera, Jeff Bodwin and Lillian Schellhase, who along with adviser Wendel Yale, taped two appearances on WMAQ-TV's "It's Academic" earlier this month.

The Sandburg team defeated Immaculata and McHenry high schools in the first round of the quick-recall quiz game, and won a $100 savings bond for the school.

In the playoff round, they placed second behind Crete-Monee High School, defeating Larkin. They received a $25 bond for this appearance.

Harry D. Trigg, program director for the television station, commended the team, saying, "They were fine representatives in the competition. . . Their participation was on a level of which the school can be proud."

Wendel Yale, physics instructor at Sandburg, said the money won by the team will be used for two purposes. First, a plaque will be purchased and engraved with the names of winners from previous years. The balance of the money will be used to purchase school supplies, lunches and clothes for needy Sandburg students, an idea originally suggested by members of the Student Council.

The programs will be broadcast on Channel 5 at 6 p.m. on Dec. 19 and 26.
